

May 3, 2019

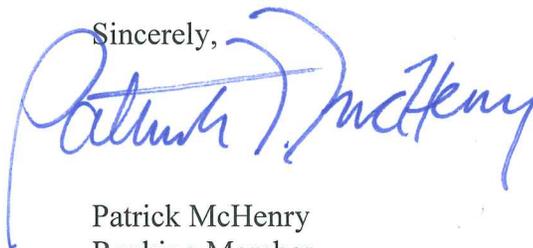

The Honorable Kathleen L. Kraninger
Director
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
1700 G Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20552

Dear Director Kraninger:

Congress directed the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB)'s prompt attention to a number of regulations impacting consumers, several of which are included in S. 2155, the Economic Growth, Regulatory Relief, and Consumer Protection Act. Completion of these targeted regulations will collectively promote greater economic growth and competition in our marketplaces ultimately benefiting consumers. In particular, CFPB is charged with not only addressing escrow requirements on high priced mortgage loans, but is also responsible for protecting veterans' credit; protecting veterans from predatory lending; and providing foreclosure relief for service members.

Please provide a status report on all rulemakings pending before the CFPB that were included in S.2155, including estimated time for completion, no later than May 30, 2019.

Sincerely,

Patrick McHenry
Ranking Member